People with great entrepreneurial spirit are at work in Sindelfingen. Not only at Mercedes-Benz Group AG's largest automotive plant worldwide. But also in many other companies that are based here: Mechanical engineers, craftspeople, retailers, service providers and representatives of the textile industry. From medium-sized companies to international corporations or innovative start-ups – we welcome them all equally. At the economic development department, it is our passion to ensure that Sindelfingen remains a successful and sustainable business location, and we work towards achieving this aim every day.

Ladies and gentlemen,

Sindelfingen is an outstanding business location. The entrepreneurial landscape is characterised by large international companies, a strong SME sector and innovative start-ups. Embedded in one of the economically strongest metropolitan regions in Europe, the city manages to combine tradition and modernity in the best possible way.

In addition to its strategically favourable location and excellent infrastructure, Sindelfingen boasts a very high quality of life. The city offers a special combination of urban environments and nature and is characterised by an international and cosmopolitan urban society. A modern educational landscape, a wide range of cultural and sporting activities and attractive living and working opportunities make Sindelfingen a place where people of all ages can feel at home.

Whether you are an entrepreneur, founder or employee – in Sindelfingen, you will find an inspiring environment that combines economic success and quality of life. In Sindelfingen, you are in good company!

Yours,
